LEADERSHIP

Message from the CEO

It is believed that the progress of a community depends on the health of its population. The health education of nurses contributes greatly to the wellness of individuals, and the nursing profession brings together social and cultural values, ethics and the medical sciences in caring for humanity. Nursing is a key component of the healthcare delivery system and one of the noblest professions. Today's healthcare system demands highly qualified, professionally trained and skilled nurses to ensure sound results in patient care.

The nurse-to-patient ratio in Pakistan remains dangerously low, which makes it the need of the day to establish more nursing colleges. To address this, a comprehensive nursing education program has been launched under the umbrella of Jinnah Teaching Hospital.

I truly appreciate the efforts of the NNIPHS team, and I assure the institute of my continuous help and support.

Sundus Ishaq

Chief Executive Officer

LEADERSHIP

Message from the Principal

It gives me immense pleasure to welcome the new batch of students to Naseem Nursing Institute & Public Health School. NNIPHS was established in 2021 to address the acute shortage of nurses within the country and worldwide.

Our objective is to produce competent, qualified nursing professionals who provide care through evidence-based practice at national and international levels. Today's nurses carry diverse and complex roles, and must be equipped with the knowledge and skills to perform effectively in hospitals, communities and other healthcare settings.

With well-qualified faculty, excellent infrastructure and a committed team of teachers and supporting staff, we will support every student in fulfilling their academic and professional needs.

I wish all the students of NNIPHS every success in their professional and personal lives.
